MAYOR'S MESSAGE

I was just commenting the other day to my wife that the end of February and the first part of March are my least favorite time of the year. Everything looks so dirty, brown, and just downright dreary. I know that it will soon be followed by my favorite time of year and that is what gets me through it. Springtime is fast approaching and will bring a wonderful time of renewal. The air will be cleaner, the landscape will begin to brighten, and people will once again be able to get out and enjoy the fresh air and sunshine.

Now a little good news, bad news. First the good news, the city has saved money by not plowing and salting the roads, but for a couple of times this winter. This money will be put back into maintenance of our roads. Now to the bad news, the city has not had to spend much money this winter in plowing and salting our roads. So, the severe drought continues. I want to assure everyone that water continues to be our number one priority. We would ask that you put off watering outside as long as possible. Even more important, please do everything you can to cut back your culinary water use. Consider shorter and less frequent showers. Combine two small loads of dish cycles into one larger one, and the same with your wash loads. Turn the water off while brushing your teeth. Look for ways to conserve water. Make it a game with the children and grandchildren. I know that these seem like such trivial things, and individually they are. Collectively, however, over many households, day in and day out they really make a difference.

Remember as we head outside for the coming spring, to protect yourselves and especially your children from those deadly UV rays that Utah is so famous for. A simple sunburn now can come back to haunt them as skin cancer when they are older.

So many important things are happening in our city, and we'll have more announcements in the near future. We continue to collaborate with developers all along 2700 North with many great projects that are really starting to gather shape. For particularly good reasons, businesses like to remain somewhat secretive and announce things on their own timetables and in their own way.

In other parts of the city the Rulon White extension is moving along at a rapid pace, and you should soon see new businesses starting construction in that area of the city. Most of that area will continue to be general commercial and light industrial and will continue to boost our tax base. It also will continue to make our 2700 North corridor more attractive to commercial and retail businesses.

As always, I am committed to doing whatever it takes to ensure that Pleasant View remains the best place to not only grow up, but the best place to grow old.

PLEASANT VIEW CITY IS PREPARING FOR OUR 2022 FOUNDERS DAY

As many of you know, Woodruff Auto has been our car show host for many years. With Woody retiring and selling his business and the new owner not being able to participate this year, we are looking for another sponsor to host the car show!

It has been an amazing event with a tremendous amount of community support that local and surrounding residents look forward to every year.
